

Rules of Procedure for the International Commercial Chambers of the Amsterdam District Court (NCC District Court) and the Amsterdam Court of Appeal (NCC Court of Appeal)

Background

The first edition of these Rules was adopted by the Governing Councils of the Amsterdam District Court and the Amsterdam Court of Appeal in December 2018, after consultation with Dutch lawyers and courts and just before the creation of the Netherlands Commercial Court on 1 January 2019.

The second edition took effect on 1 January 2021, following the effective date of the Digital Proceedings Decree (Staatsblad 2020, 410, DPD). On 1 November 2022 and 14 February 2023 respectively, the judicial conferences of the Amsterdam Court of Appeal and of the Amsterdam District Court adopted both versions of these Rules. This was a direct result of the 3 June 2022 Supreme Court ruling (ECLI:NL:HR:2022:824, para. 3.1.3). In the meanwhile the Rules were adopted on an individual basis by the judges dealing with the case.

The third edition of the Rules mainly concerned changes to the part of these Rules relating to the electronic portal (Annex IV: the eNCC Rules) on account of a systems migration.

This fourth version of the Rules is occasioned by the various changes to the laws of evidence in the Code of Civil Procedure that come into force on 1 January 2025 (Article 194 ff). Additionally, there are amendments in - amongst others - the following rules:

- 2.1.3 (notification of interested parties)
- 2.2 and explanatory notes (language and third parties)
- 3.2.1 (communication by email)
- 3.2.9 (maximum size of documents in appeal)
- 3.4.2 (extension of a time limit)
- 5.2 (default)
- 6.3.2 (summary proceedings)
- 7.1.4 (scheduling)
- 7.2 (invitation to the hearing)
- 7.7.2 (audio and video recordings)
- 8.4 (right to information and confidentiality)
- 8.4.8 (prejudgment attachment to protect evidence)
- 8.8 (preparatory evidence events)
- explanatory notes 1.3.2 (jurisdiction to deal with prejudgment attachments).

The rates that are applied by the NCC District Court and the NCC Court of Appeal to assess the lawyers' fees of the successful party (Annex III), have been adjusted for inflation in a similar way to the rates applicable to non-NCC(A) cases.

A quick view of what we do

- Initiation. An action is initiated by submitting an originating document (writ of summons or application) in eNCC.
- Assignment. The case is assigned to three judges and a senior law clerk. The presiding judge of the three-judge panel is in charge of case management and may convene a case management conference, either in person or by videoconference.
- Motions and evidence. Issues such as case management, procedural defences, document review and witness or expert testimony are addressed, before or after the defence, as appropriate at this stage. As a rule, these issues are heard and disposed of by the presiding judge.
- Defence. The defendant/interested party submits its defence.
- Further written submissions. As appropriate.
- Hearing. The parties present their arguments.
- Judgment. This may be a final judgment on the claims or an interim judgment. In an interim judgment, the court may allow the parties to take evidence, direct them to submit written submissions on certain aspects of the case, appoint one or more experts or give other directions.
- As directed in an interim judgment. Evidence or further written submissions, and where appropriate a hearing and a final judgment.

SECTION 1 SCOPE

Article 1.1 General provisions

- 1.1.1. These Rules govern proceedings in the NCC District Court and NCC Court of Appeal. The NCC District Court and the NCC Court of Appeal are chambers of the Amsterdam District Court and the Amsterdam Court of Appeal respectively. Based in the Palace of Justice at IJdok 20 in Amsterdam (the Palace of Justice), these chambers deal with international commercial matters.
- 1.1.2. These Rules apply to proceedings in first instance in the NCC District Court. These Rules also apply to proceedings in the CSP and NCC Court of Appeal, except where the provision or the CCP or other legislation indicates otherwise, or the provision would not be appropriate in summary or appellate proceedings. Certain provisions, where indicated, apply specifically to proceedings in the CSP or the NCCA.
- 1.1.3. These Rules focus on actions by claim, but also apply, where appropriate, to actions by application.

Article 1.2 The law and these Rules

- 1.2.1. The court applies Dutch procedure, including in particular the CCP. The applicable substantive law is determined by reference to the rules of Dutch private international law.
- 1.2.2. For ease of reference, these Rules reflect certain relevant rules of Dutch civil procedure, but are without prejudice to the law's meaning and effect.
- 1.2.3. If warranted, except where these Rules express CCP or other binding provisions, the court may depart from any of these Rules. The court may issue an appropriate order in any circumstances not provided for by these Rules, taking their purpose into account.

Article 1.3 International commercial cases

- 1.3.1. An action may be initiated in the NCC District Court where:
- (a) the action is a civil or commercial matter in connection with a particular legal relationship within the autonomy of the parties and is not subject to the jurisdiction of the Subdistrict Court or the exclusive jurisdiction of any other chamber or court;
 - (b) the matter concerns an international dispute;
 - (c) the parties to the proceedings have designated the Amsterdam District Court as the forum to hear their case or the Amsterdam District Court has jurisdiction to hear the action on other grounds;
- and

- (d) the parties to the proceedings have expressly agreed in writing for proceedings to be before the NCC District Court in English.
- 1.3.2. An action may be initiated in the CSP where:
 - (a) an interim or protective measure is sought or another decision for which the court in summary proceedings is designated by law; and
 - (b) the conditions of Article 1.3.1 are satisfied.
- 1.3.3. An action may be initiated in the NCC Court of Appeal:
 - (a) on appeal against a judgment of the NCC District Court (including a judgment of the CSP); or
 - (b) in first instance, if the matter is eligible for appeal and the conditions of Article 1.3.1 are satisfied, the parties having designated not the Amsterdam District Court but the Amsterdam Court of Appeal; or
 - (c) following an arbitration as set out in Article 1064a CCP, where the conditions of Article 1.3.1(b) and (d) are satisfied and the place of arbitration is in the appellate district of Amsterdam.
- 1.3.4. The NCC District Court and CSP will determine, of their own initiative, whether the conditions of Article 1.3.1(a) through (d) have been satisfied. Specific rules (Articles 5.2.2, 6.2 and 10.1) apply where a defendant appears solely to deny that the conditions of Article 1.3.1(a) through (d) have been satisfied.
- 1.3.5. The NCC Court of Appeal will determine, of its own initiative, whether the conditions of Article 1.3.3 have been satisfied.

Article 1.4 Sanctions

If a party fails to comply with any of the provisions of these Rules or any directions issued by the court that may depart from any of these Rules, the court may impose an appropriate sanction, taking into account the nature of the specific provision and the severity of the violation.

SECTION 2 LANGUAGE

Article 2.1 English language

- 2.1.1. The language of the proceedings is English. The court may direct that Dutch will be the language of part or all of the proceedings, if the parties to the proceedings unanimously so request after the writ of summons is filed. The parties must notify the court of such request as soon as practicable. In the event of a dispute as referred to in Article 6.2, the provisions on language in that Article apply.
- 2.1.2. The court may order a party to submit a translation of a document that is in a language other than the language of the proceedings and may direct that this translation be certified. Dutch case law and scholarly analysis and documents in Dutch, English, German or French need not be translated, except where the court directs otherwise. It is recommended to state a Dutch legal term in Dutch and between brackets upon the first use of the term in an English translation.
- 2.1.3. In actions by application the NCC registry gives notice of the action to the interested parties, except where the court directs otherwise. The applicant must attach to the application a list of the interested parties, stating the reasons for limiting the list to these persons. The list must in any case include the following information for each interested party:
- the name and address of the interested party;
 - where the interested party is a legal entity: the name of the representative and, if known, the representative's telephone number and email address;
 - where the interested party resides or is domiciled abroad: proof that the address provided is the interested party's current address.
- If a translation of the application is required under a convention or European law, the applicant must promptly submit that translation to the court.
- 2.1.4. A party that does not have a sufficient command of English and desires the assistance of an interpreter at a hearing may hire an interpreter at its own expense. If a party wishes to examine a witness or expert who does not have a sufficient command of English, that party must arrange for assistance by an interpreter at its own expense.

Article 2.2 Language and third parties

- 2.2.1. Where a third party is added in an action pending in the NCC or is involved in a closely connected action, the court will give appropriate directions with regard to the language of the action, taking into account the requirements set out at Article 2.2.2 as well as due process and Article 6.2 of the Unidroit Principles of Transnational Civil Procedure.

2.2.2. If a third party, by motion and with the court's permission, is added in the action as a claimant or a defendant, the third party is bound by the other parties' agreement in respect of the language of the proceedings.

This does not apply in the event of a claim for contribution or indemnity, or where a third party is given notice under article 118 CCP, or where a third party has intervened. The court will only allow a party to be added to the action for contribution or indemnity or under article 118 CCP or as an intervening party, a) where the party to be added has consented in writing to English being the language of the proceedings, or b) where it is likely that this party has a sufficient command of the English language, or (c) where the other parties agree that the entire action will be dealt with in Dutch.

In the latter event, the court may direct that a party submit a certified translation in Dutch of the documents in the main action.

Where a third party submits a claim in the CSP for an order lifting a prejudgment attachment, the third party is bound by the language that applied to the application for leave for the respective attachment.

SECTION 3 MODE OF PROCEDURE AND TIME LIMITS

Article 3.1 Representation

- 3.1.1. Except where the law provides otherwise, a party may not act pro se, but must be represented by its lawyer who must be a member of the Dutch Bar (advocaat).
- 3.1.2. Acts of process, such as the submission of a claim or defence, must be carried out by a member of the Dutch Bar. Visiting lawyers as referred to in Article 16b Advocates Act (Advocatenwet) (members of the bars in Member States of the European Union, the European Economic Area or Switzerland) may not carry out acts of process, but they may act for a party in other ways in accordance with Article 16e of the Advocates Act (in cooperation with a member of the Dutch Bar). Other visiting lawyers may not act for a party, but the court may allow them to speak at any hearing.

Article 3.2 Communicating with the court and submitting documents

- 3.2.1. Except where the court directs otherwise, eNCC is the only means of communication with the court and must be used for all purposes, including the submission of statements, exhibits and correspondence with the court. If the court allows communication on a particular topic by email, that communication will take place through the "Zivver Veilig Mailen" secure email system. The party sending the email informs the court and the counterparty of its email via a message in eNCC. Original documents or objects that may be relied on as evidence but are not suitable for submission via eNCC may be deposited with the clerk. Any other mode of submission requires the advance permission of the court.
- 3.2.2. The parties to the proceedings are not permitted to speak with the judge except at a hearing. The parties may contact the clerk at any time on matters of a practical or procedural nature, but they must promptly inform the other parties of what they discuss with the clerk. The court may direct that communication be done by telephone, video conferencing or any other suitable means.
- 3.2.3. For further rules on electronic communications, reference is made to the NCC website, the eNCC Rules (Annex IV) and the Digital Proceedings Decree (Besluit elektronisch procederen).
- 3.2.4. All time limits in the law or these rules or in directions based on these rules are subject to the General Extension of Time Limits Act (Algemene Termijnenwet).
- 3.2.5. If a party wishes to restrict access by one or more parties to its documents the party may make a motion for its documents to be shielded or for separation of the action, or may make a request for confidentiality (Article 8.4.2).

- 3.2.6. If access to eNCC is interrupted on the last day of a time limit, for reasons not imputable to the submitting party, a time limit violation caused by the interruption can be remedied. To remedy the violation, the party must submit the respective document or message no later than the first day following the day on which the party should have known that access was restored. At the time of submission or immediately thereafter, the party must state that it wishes to remedy a time limit violation, listing the times at which it attempted to access eNCC and explaining why the interruption is not imputable. If an interruption lasts longer than 24 hours, the court will announce within two business days after the interruption began how documents and messages can be submitted.
- 3.2.7. Wherever possible, exhibits must be submitted with the document (such as a claim or defence) in which reference is made to the exhibit. Exhibits submitted after the related document or documents have been submitted are subject to Article 7.4.
- 3.2.8. Documents must be organised so as to facilitate easy access by the court and the parties. Any document to which exhibits are attached must for each exhibit state the exhibit number and specify the relevant passages in the document and the reasons why each passage is relevant. If more than one exhibit is submitted, a table of exhibits must be supplied. If an exhibit is attached in a language other than the language of the action, this must be clearly stated as well as whether it is accompanied by a translation. Any exhibits submitted may not contain comments or additions that do not appear in the original.

Exhibits may be submitted as

- separate digital files, submitted in such manner that they can be consulted in the order as numbered; or;
- a single digital file, provided this file is structured so that each exhibit can be properly and individually searched and it is clear where each exhibit begins and ends.

The parties are required to name their documents in accordance with the eNCC Rules (Annex IV).

- 3.2.9. In proceedings before the NCC Court of Appeal, the statement of appeal and the statement of defence on appeal may each be no longer than 25 pages. For other statements a lower maximum may apply.

Before submitting its statement the submitting party may ask the court permission to exceed the page limit. The NCCA Court of Appeal will be flexible where the request concerns a case which is legally or factually complex (see the Explanatory Notes for instances where such complexity may obtain).

The court calendar judge decides on the request as soon as possible. If the statement exceeds the maximum number of pages and no such request has been made, the court will refuse to accept the statement.

All national rules on the size limits of documents of process in appeal apply, which include:

- the National Rules of Procedure for Civil Cases initiated by Writ of Summons at the Courts of Appeal, and
- the National Rules of Procedure for Proceedings initiated by Application for Commercial and Insolvency Cases at the Courts of Appeal.

These rules have been incorporated in full in the Explanatory Notes to these NCC Rules of Procedure.

- 3.2.10. The court will disregard any communication (such as documents or correspondence) received after the court has set the date for giving judgment, except where:
- (a) the defendant (who initially failed to appear) enters an appearance;
 - (b) evidence is supplied of the counterparty's consent to the communication;
 - (c) the court was wrong to schedule a date for giving judgment in the matter;
 - (d) the court has requested the communication;
 - (e) the parties provide comments on a court record not prepared in their presence; or
 - (f) the communication serves to withdraw the claim or application.
- 3.2.11. The electronic case file will be available in eNCC for six months after the case is closed.

Article 3.3 Fair process

Except where the law provides otherwise, the court gives the parties the opportunity to present their arguments, respond to the other party's arguments, and express their views on all documents and other information in the action. The parties must make a full and truthful presentation of the material facts. In the event of non-compliance, the court may draw adverse inferences as it considers appropriate. A party that relies on any document must submit a copy, except where a copy has already been submitted in the same action.

Article 3.4 Due process and time limits

- 3.4.1. At a party's request or of its own initiative, the court gives all such directions as may facilitate the just, fair and speedy disposition of the action. Wherever possible, the court prevents any unreasonable delay and, at a party's request or of its own initiative, give any appropriate directions, as needed, for work to be done efficiently. The parties have a duty to each other to prevent any unreasonable delay.

- 3.4.2. The court sets the time limit for carrying out any acts of process as appropriate to each case, taking into account any wishes the parties may have expressed.

A party may request an extension. The court grants the first unanimous request by the parties, unless this would cause unreasonable delay. A second and subsequent unanimous request must be explained in writing, in which the parties must also explain why the action should not be discontinued.

Otherwise, extensions are only granted for compelling reasons. The court decides on a request for an extension as soon as possible and at most within 5 business days.

At a party's request or of its own initiative, the court may direct that any time limit be extended or shortened as may be required with a view to due process. If a party fails to comply with a time limit and no extension is granted, its right to carry out the act of process is waived.

Article 3.5 Assignment of the case

- 3.5.1. Cases are typically heard and disposed of by a three-judge chamber, with the exception of motions, case management issues and cases brought before the CSP.
- 3.5.2 After the claim is submitted, the president of the NCC District Court or NCC Court of Appeal, respectively, assigns the designated judge or judges and one designated clerk to the case who will be dealing with the case for its duration. If a panel of three judges is assigned to the case, one of these designated judges will be assigned as president and will be in charge of case management. The judges may appoint one judge from amongst themselves, or another judge, to serve as a delegate judge for the work defined in the notice of delegation.
- 3.5.3. The president of the NCC District Court will assign cases submitted to the CSP to a single judge.

SECTION 4 INITIATING AN ACTION

Article 4.1 Submitting a claim

- 4.1.1. An action is initiated by submitting a writ of summons. In addition to the other particulars required by law, the writ of summons must specify:
- (a) the claim and its grounds;
 - (b) the defences asserted by the defendant, the grounds of those defences and the claimant's reply;
 - (c) the exhibits available to the claimant and the witnesses whose testimony it relies on to substantiate the disputed grounds;
 - (d) the designation of the court hearing the matter: "the Amsterdam District Court (NCC District Court)" or "the Amsterdam Court of Appeal (NCC Court of Appeal)";
 - (e) the confirmation that the conditions of Article 1.3.1 have been satisfied and in particular that the parties have agreed for proceedings to be before the NCC District Court or NCC Court of Appeal in English;
 - (f) the business address and the email address of the claimant's lawyer;
 - (g) if available, the name and the email address of the lawyer of each defendant; and
 - (h) where applicable: the name, office address and email address of a party's foreign counsel;
 - (i) the existence of the legal duty incumbent upon both parties to make a full and truthful presentation of the facts material to the decision;
 - (j) the legal consequences attached to facts or rights alleged by a party and not disputed or not adequately disputed by the other party; these facts or rights will be accepted by the court, notwithstanding the court's discretion to demand evidence, where acceptance of such an allegation would entail legal consequences that are outside of the autonomy of the parties.
- 4.1.2. The writ of summons must where appropriate include the following exhibits:
- (a) documents demonstrating that the matter concerns an international dispute as meant in Article 1.3.1(b), or that this was the case when the agreement as meant in Article 1.3.1(d) was made;
 - (b) the agreement or other evidence demonstrating that the conditions of Article 1.3.1(c) and (d) are satisfied; a clause contained in general terms and conditions does not in itself satisfy Article 1.3.1(d);
 - (c) if applicable and available, proof of the timely and proper service of the writ of summons in a foreign jurisdiction;
 - (d) all available exhibits to substantiate the claim;
 - (e) any agreements made with respect to the mode of procedure and cost.

- 4.1.3. Where the claimant fails to comply with the rules in both of the previous two Articles, the court may make an adverse inference it considers appropriate. Where the non-compliance can still be remedied, the court may grant a two-week time limit for compliance.
- 4.1.4. The action is pending from the day on which the writ of summons is served.
- 4.1.5. Where a case is referred to the NCC within the Dutch courts, the claimant must submit the referral decision, the writ of summons, any documents already exchanged, the confirmation of service, and the particulars and exhibits referred to in Article 4.1.2(a) through (d). The court may direct that a translation of each document in the proceedings up to the referral be submitted. A surcharge will be applied to increase the court fee to the CSP, NCC District Court or NCC Court of Appeal rate. The case will be heard by the NCC and move forward from the current status.

Article 4.2 Amendment of a claim

- 4.2.1. Until the court gives the final judgment, the claimant may increase, amend or reduce its claim or the grounds of its claim.
- 4.2.2. The court may disallow, on another party's objection or of its own initiative, any amendment (which is not a reduction) or increase, taking into account due process.

SECTION 5 DEFAULT AND DEFENCE

Article 5.1 Appearance

To enter an appearance, a defendant must:

- (a) attend court for a hearing, in cases in the CSP and other cases where the law so allows;
- (b) provide timely notification of its lawyer (“notice of representation” in eNCC), in all other cases.

Where (b) obtains, when the defendant enters its appearance, it must state the name, business address and email address of its lawyer.

Article 5.2 Default

If the defendant fails to enter an appearance or to submit a notice of representation on time, or to pay the court fee on time, and the notice periods and formalities have been complied with, the court will record the defendant’s default for failure to appear and the court will give a default judgment for the claimant, except where the court determines that the claim is unlawful or without merit. Until the final judgment is given, a defendant who is in default may enter an appearance or pay the court fee, in which case the consequences of its default status will lapse, except in respect of costs. After the final judgment has been given in an action by claim the defendant may oppose the judgment in accordance with the rules and time limits as stipulated in statute and developed in case law.

Article 5.3 Defence

The defendant must submit a defence within the applicable time limit. The defence must state the defendant’s motions and its defence on the merits, unless (i) the court, at the defendant’s request and having heard the counterparty, directs otherwise or (ii) a motion is made in the meaning of Article 6.2. If the defendant fails to comply, the court may direct that the defendant’s right to submit a defence on the merits is waived. The defence must state the names of witnesses and other evidence that may substantiate the grounds of the defence. If the defendant fails to comply, the court may make such adverse inferences as it considers appropriate.

Article 5.4 Counterclaim

- 5.4.1. The defendant may submit a counterclaim, provided (i) the counterclaim satisfies Article 1.3 and (ii) filing a counterclaim is not contrary to due process. The counterclaim must be made in the statement of defence, stating the grounds of the counterclaim, the other party's defences and the counterclaimant's reply as well as the available witnesses and other evidence.

The claim and the counterclaim will be dealt with simultaneously and disposed of in the same final judgment, except where the court determines that either the claim or the counterclaim can be disposed of at an earlier stage.

- 5.4.2. Article 4.2 applies mutatis mutandis to an amendment of a counterclaim.
- 5.4.3. The respondent to the counterclaim may submit a defence to the counterclaim. Article 5.3 applies mutatis mutandis.

SECTION 6 MOTIONS AND INTERIM MEASURES

Article 6.1 General provisions

Motions may be used to assert procedural defences or to submit demands or similar requests of a procedural nature, such as a demand for interim measures. Motions may be made either in the writ of summons or in a separate subsequent document. All such motions must be made concurrently, if at all practicable. The court will, if appropriate, rule on the motions prior to the judgment on the main action.

In such cases the court will set the date for the hearing on the main action in its ruling on the motion.

If there are no adequate grounds for immediate disposition of the motion prior to the judgment in the main action, and a party failed to submit a statement on the merits, the court may direct that the party's right to submit such statement is waived.

Article 6.2 Motions on jurisdiction and agreement designating the NCC District Court/NCC Court of Appeal

6.2.1. Where the defendant intends to challenge the jurisdiction of the Amsterdam District Court or the Amsterdam Court of Appeal, as the case may be, or the alleged agreement for proceedings to be before the NCC District Court or NCC Court of Appeal in English, the defendant must make its motion to this end prior to any defences on the merits. If the defendant does not comply, the court may direct that the defendant's respective right is waived. If the defendant makes such a motion, it does not need to file its defence on the merits. The motion may be made in Dutch, in which event the further proceedings and the decision on this point will be in Dutch.

6.2.2. If the court grants a motion challenging the alleged agreement for proceedings to be before the NCC District Court or NCC Court of Appeal in English, the court will refer the case to the ordinary commercial chambers of the Amsterdam District Court or Amsterdam Court of Appeal, as the case may be, applying these rules (by analogy to Article 71 DCCP):

- the court will set a calendar date for an appearance in the ordinary commercial chambers and send a referral notice to the clerk of those chambers,
- the court will state the claimant's revised court fee (the defendant's court fee having been reduced as set out in Article 10.1) and the time limit for payment (if payment has not been made), and direct the clerk to refund any excess amount (if payment has been made),

- if the court has recorded the defendant's default for failure to appear, the court will direct the claimant to serve notice of the calendar date on the defendant, with a copy of the referral,
- the clerk of those chambers will create a new case number (HA ZA, in the Amsterdam District Court) and administer the case in the "roljournaal" system,
- the ordinary commercial chambers will move the case forward from its current status in accordance with their rules and practices,
- the parties may wish to consider special procedures currently offered by the ordinary commercial chambers with a view to an expedited disposition of the matter,
- the ordinary commercial chambers will determine whether eNCC will be used in the subsequent proceedings and give any other appropriate directions for the just and expeditious administration of the case.

The same rules, where relevant, apply in summary proceedings cases, except that the referral will be to the ordinary summary proceedings chambers (in District Court cases).

Article 6.3 Interim measures

- 6.3.1. While a main action is pending, any party may make a motion for an interim measure for the duration of the proceedings, provided that there is a sufficient connection between the interim measure and the main claim.
- 6.3.2. If Article 1.3.2 is satisfied, the matter is urgent and interim measures prior to the judgment on the main action are appropriate, the CSP may, taking into account the parties' interests, grant interim measures (Article 254 CCP). These interim measures need not be connected to a pending main action or a main action to be made pending, nor are they limited to the duration of any main action. In eNCC, the claimant must submit a writ of summons marked "draft" in the PDF file to explain why no date for an appearance is stated at this stage, and the claimant must submit a cover letter including the appropriate Scheduling Request Form. The claimant must submit a copy of the served writ of summons as soon as possible after its service, but no later than three business days in advance of the hearing. If the matter is so urgent that a response from the court is required outside of its business hours, the claimant may refer to the "duty roster" of the Amsterdam District Court.

The CSP will schedule a hearing and may direct that the hearing be held at any time, whether before, during or after business hours, and at any location, whether at the Palace of Justice or anywhere else. The claimant must comply with any terms that the CSP may impose in the scheduling order. The writ of summons must state those terms and how they have been complied with. The claim will be denied if the CSP determines that it would not be appropriate to rule on the matter in summary proceedings.

Any decision in summary proceedings is without prejudice to the main action.

Article 6.4 Third parties

Any party may make a motion to add third parties to the action for contribution, indemnity, under article 118 CCP or for any other purpose allowed by law.

A third party may make a motion to be added to the action on the claimant's side, on the defendant's side or as a third party. Article 2.2 applies with regard to the language of the case.

The court will grant the motion if it determines that there are adequate grounds, taking into account the interests of all parties concerned, except in circumstances as referred to in Article 2.2.2.

Article 6.5 Consolidation

Any party may make a motion for consolidation where cases are pending before the same court and are (i) between the same parties and on the same subject, or (ii) closely connected. The court may also order consolidation of its own initiative. If such a case is pending elsewhere within the Dutch courts at first or second instance, the relevant cases may be consolidated after referral to the NCC District Court or NCC Court of Appeal, respectively. Where there is a closely connected case in a foreign court, the NCC case may be stayed pending the outcome of the foreign case. The NCC may also direct that a combined hearing be held in the NCC case and the foreign case (see Article 7.8).

SECTION 7 HEARING

Article 7.1 Scheduling

- 7.1.1. The court may order a hearing at any stage of the proceedings for case management, debate on the merits, settlement and/or any other purpose. The court will schedule a hearing, as appropriate in the case, after the writ of summons or the defence is submitted. At the parties' request or with their consent, the court may direct that no hearing will be held.
- 7.1.2. The court may direct that the hearing be held via video conferencing or any other suitable means, taking into account due process and in accordance with the requirements of a fair trial. If a party wishes certain persons to attend the hearing by videoconference, it must make its request for this no later than upon the occasion of the specification of available dates (7.1.4).
- 7.1.3. If the parties wish to have a case management conference, they must notify the court at the latest in their respective first written submissions. They must specify the topics for the case management conference, including procedural logistics, debate on motions, certain issues or parts of the substantive dispute, and/or settlement.
- 7.1.4. In order to schedule the date of the hearing, the court - preferably before the submission of the statement of defence - asks all the parties to specify their availability in a certain period. The parties are required to specify at least seven mornings or afternoons in a month on which they are available. If the court receives no, or an insufficient number of, unavailability notices, the court sets the date at its discretion.

Article 7.2 Notice

The notice of the hearing must specify the following particulars with regard to the hearing:

- (a) the date and time;
- (b) how much time is available (three hours, except where the court directs otherwise);
- (c) the name or names of the judge or panel who will be dealing with the case;
- (d) what the time limit is for submitting exhibits;
- (e) the time limit for supplying a list of names of persons who will be present at the hearing; for persons who will attend via videoconference, the email address and a telephone number must also be provided;

- (f) the speaking time allocated to parties (unless the court directs otherwise, speaking time is 30 minutes per party)
- (g) and whether parties may submit speaking notes.

Article 7.3 Order of business

The clerk may provide in advance a list of topics that the court intends to discuss at the hearing.

Article 7.4 Acts of process and exhibits introduced at the hearing

Except where the law provides otherwise, exhibits on which a party intends to rely at a hearing, and which have not been submitted previously, must be submitted no later than 10 days before the hearing, or, if the hearing is in the CSP, 24 hours before the hearing. If a party submits exhibits after the time limit has expired, including submission at the hearing, the court will disallow the exhibits, except where the court determines that the party's conduct was reasonably justified or that, taking into account due process, the exhibits should be admitted. Where the court orders the production of exhibits for use at a hearing, these exhibits must be submitted no later than the date set by the court and must be available to every party at that time.

A party that envisages carrying out an act of process at the hearing must notify the court and every other party, providing a copy of the document to be submitted, no later than 10 days, or, in the CSP, 24 hours before the hearing.

Article 7.5 Public hearing

The hearing is in public. However, the court may direct that the hearing in whole or in part be held in private or that only certain persons be allowed to attend the hearing, if necessary in the interest of public policy, good morals or national security, or to protect the interests of minors or the parties' privacy, or to prevent a substantial adverse impact on the sound administration of justice.

The parties must not disclose to any person outside the case:

- (a) anything that is said or done at a hearing that is held in private or that only certain persons are allowed to attend;
- (b) any other information about the case, where the court has so determined,
- (c) any information provided by a party and subject to an obligation of confidentiality, if that party requested confidentiality when providing the information.

Upon the request of an interested party, the court may reinforce the duty of confidentiality with an incremental penalty. At a party's request, the court may lift this obligation in whole or in part.

A list of hearings scheduled in the upcoming week and the names of the parties will be published on the NCC website.

Article 7.6 The hearing

7.6.1. At the hearing, the parties must be represented by their lawyer, unless the law provides otherwise. The court may order a party to attend the hearing in person. A legal entity must be represented by someone who has general authority to represent the entity or someone who is aware of the matter and is has a power of attorney to make binding agreements on behalf of the entity. The court may direct that the parties submit a statement or brief to set out their arguments on a date in advance of the hearing.

7.6.2. At the hearing, the court will examine the parties and allow them to present their arguments. Taking into account due process, the court may:

- (a) request that the parties provide information;
- (b) allow the parties to further substantiate their arguments;
- (c) discuss preliminary matters, motions or issues that may, in the interest of the administration of justice, require resolution prior to the judgment on the merits;
- (d) review the issues of fact or law and discuss a timetable or other case management plan to address and resolve these issues, including where necessary the taking of evidence;
- (e) enquire whether the dispute could be resolved amicably and, where appropriate, assist the parties in a settlement process;
- (f) give other directions or order acts of process, where appropriate.

The court will allow the parties to ask each other questions, but the court may direct that a question need not be answered.

7.6.3. With the court's prior permission, witnesses and party-appointed experts may be examined at the hearing. The court may also direct a separate examination of witnesses at the request of a party or of its own initiative. The court may also designate and call persons as witnesses on its own initiative, in which case the clerk will notify the witnesses to attend. These forms of witness examination are subject to Article 8.5.

7.6.4. If appropriate, the court may discuss with the parties whether it would be advisable to submit part or all of the dispute to a mediator. If the parties agree to mediation, the court will determine, in consultation with the parties, who the mediator will be, and the court will stay the proceedings pending the outcome of the mediation. The parties may also ask the court to rule on part of the dispute and stay the rest of the proceedings pending the outcome of the mediation. The substance of what is discussed during the mediation is confidential and will not be communicated to the court. The parties and the mediator will enter into a mediation agreement that includes a confidentiality clause reflecting the above. Any party may request that the proceedings be resumed. If the mediation results in a settlement, the parties may ask that the settlement be recorded in a court record. Article 7.7.4 applies mutatis mutandis.

- 7.6.5. At the end of the hearing, the court will direct the next steps after discussing these with the parties.
- 7.6.6. With a view to fair process, due process and sound case management, the court may, at a party's request or of its own initiative, direct that:
- (a) the parties may make a written submission to respond to each other's arguments;
 - (b) a hearing be held for any purpose;
 - (c) exhibits be submitted prior to, during or after the hearing, and the parties may submit a written response;
 - (d) judgment will be given.

The court will give directions on time limits.

Article 7.7 Court record

- 7.7.1. The court may direct that a record be drawn up of the hearing. The record is a concise summary of what was said and done at the hearing. When examining a party, witness or expert, the court may limit its record to a summary of the content of the statement made. If the court determines that the statement of a party, witness or expert be included in the record in its entirety without delay, the statement is recorded in writing and presented to the party, witness or expert. The court may also direct that the record be drawn up after the hearing. In that event the court will allow the parties a 14-day time limit after receipt to submit comments on the record. The record will be signed by the court.
- 7.7.2. The court may direct that an audio or video recording be made by or on behalf of the court, and that the record is substituted by this video or audio recording. In such event the appellate court or the Supreme Court may request a record in written form. The court may make substitution of the record by a video or audio recording conditional upon a party having a verbatim report prepared in accordance with Article 7.7.3. Where a written record is prepared after the hearing, it is signed by the judge. If this written record relates to a witness examination, it states the formalities observed.
- 7.7.3. A party must notify the court and the other parties, no later than 10 days before the hearing, if it has instructed a court reporter to prepare a verbatim transcript of what is said at the hearing. The court reporter's involvement in the proceedings is at the party's expense. In this notification, the party must submit the court reporter's qualifications to the court and the other parties. The parties may also jointly instruct a court reporter with regard to a transcript.

Alternatively, the parties may agree that the court will select a court reporter from a list supplied by the parties, stating the qualifications of these persons, and specifying that the costs of the court reporter will be divided among the parties and in what proportion. The court will decide on the person who will act as court reporter in the case as soon as possible. The parties will then jointly retain this court reporter and pay the court reporter's fees directly.

After the hearing, the court reporter must submit a copy of the verbatim transcript to the court and the parties (except for parties who have not entered an appearance) as soon as practicable. Where a verbatim transcript is prepared, the court may direct that in the court record reference will be made to the transcript without any further details on what was said and done at the hearing. This provision applies to all hearings, including hearings for the examination of witnesses or experts.

- 7.7.4. If a settlement is reached at The hearing, a record is drawn up of this settlement. A copy of this record will be issued in the form required for enforcement. The court may adjourn the hearing to give parties the opportunity to reach a settlement. If a full settlement is reached after the hearing, a court record stating the settlement may be prepared at a subsequent hearing, and the court record will be issued in the form required for enforcement.

Article 7.8 Combined hearing with a closely connected foreign case

The court may direct that a combined hearing in an NCC case and a closely connected foreign case be held via video conferencing or any other suitable means, taking into account due process and in accordance with the right to a fair trial, at the request of or after consultation with the foreign court. The court and the foreign court will as appropriate agree on the rules of procedure that apply to this hearing.

SECTION 8 EVIDENCE

Article 8.1 Determination of the facts

Except where the law provides otherwise, any decision by the court must be based only on facts and rights which have been imparted to the court in the proceedings or alleged, and which have been established in accordance with the rules of evidence of the CCP. Facts or rights alleged by a party and not disputed or not adequately disputed by the other party, will be accepted by the court, except where acceptance of such an allegation would entail legal consequences that are outside of the autonomy of the parties.

Article 8.2 Allocation of the burden of proof

The court will allocate the burden of proving certain facts or rights to the party that relies on a legal basis supported by those facts or rights for a claim or defence, except where the law – including such substantive law as may apply – or the requirements of reasonableness and fairness provide otherwise.

Article 8.3 Evidentiary agreement

If parties have entered into an agreement by which they elect to depart from the statutory rules of evidence, they must notify the court in their first written submission and submit the agreement.

The court will disregard an evidentiary agreement where the agreement concerns proof of facts to which the law attaches consequences that are beyond the autonomy of parties to agree, or where the agreement is unenforceable under the CC or applicable foreign law.

Artikel 8.4 Right to information and confidentiality

- 8.4.1. Where it has a sufficient interest, a party to a legal relationship has a right to inspect information, or obtain copies or extracts of that information, in respect of the person that has control of specific information about that legal relationship. This does not apply to information concerning public information as defined in the Open Government Act (Wet open overheid), to the extent that this information also need not be provided under that Act. Access to documents in cases involving competition law infringement is governed by a specific regulation (Article 844 et seq. CCP).

In any action and at any stage of the action, the court may order a party to explain certain assertions or to disclose certain information pertaining to the case. The court may also issue an order on the basis of a claim brought by the person with a right to the information in question. That order may also be given to a third party who controls specific information but is not a party to the legal relationship to which that information relates. However, that third party must first be given the opportunity to express its views on the matter.

- 8.4.2. Where there are compelling reasons, or where the party is excused on account of a privilege, the party may refuse explanation or disclosure or notify the court that the explanation or disclosure it was ordered to give may be reviewed only by the court (article 22 CCP). This is also the case where a party itself wants to provide an explanation or information, but wishes the circle of disclosure to be limited. These grounds for refusal do not apply insofar as the information in respect of which inspection or a copy or an extract is being requested concerns the personal data of the requesting party itself.

If a party refuses to allow inspection or provide a copy or extract, the party must make a confidentiality motion in eNCC ("motion: confidentiality") and state that the matter is confidential in the meaning of article 22 CCP. A chamber ('Article 22 Chamber') other than the designated judge or judges will decide as soon as possible whether this position is justified.

If the Article 22 Chamber determines that the party's position is not justified, the court may draw such adverse inferences as it considers appropriate.

If the Article 22 Chamber determines that the party's position is justified, the obligation to explain or to disclose will lapse.

If the Article 22 Chamber determines that the party's position on review only by the court is justified, the court may only rely on the explanation or disclosure for purposes of judgment if the other parties agree that review will be limited to the court only. If such consent is denied, the court will not review the explanation or disclosure. If such consent is given, review will be limited to the court only and the court may rely on the explanation or disclosure for purposes of judgment.

The parties may make an evidentiary agreement on access to confidential information. For example, such an agreement may create a confidentiality ring, permitting review of certain materials only by the parties' lawyers.

- 8.4.3. If disclosure of information to a party would cause a disproportionate adverse impact on another person's privacy, the court may direct that disclosure be made only to a lawyer or a person who has obtained special permission from the court for this purpose.

- 8.4.4. Where the court has given directions to this effect, the parties must not disclose any information from the case to any person outside the case. It is also prohibited to disclose information provided by a party that is subject to an obligation of confidentiality, if that party requested confidentiality when providing the information. The court may lift this obligation in full or in part at a party's request.
- 8.4.5. The court may disregard any information or documents submitted by a party if that party fails to explain which assertion the information or documents are intended to explain or substantiate and which parts of the information or documents are relevant to that end.
- 8.4.6. The party making the motion will bear the costs of inspection or production.
- 8.4.7. While an action is pending, at a party's request or of its own initiative, the court may order one or more parties to disclose the books, records and documents that the party is required by law to keep, prepare or retain. If this order is not complied with, the court may draw any adverse inference it considers appropriate.
- 8.4.8. If a party has a well-founded concern that certain data or tangibles will be removed or lost, that party may apply for permission to attach evidence. The court with jurisdiction to decide on permission for a prejudgment attachment to protect evidence is the court in summary proceedings in the district where one or more of the items of information or tangibles are situated, or where the debtor or a third-party addressee is domiciled. Except where the court in summary proceedings decides otherwise, the counterparty, the third-party addressee if applicable, and other interested parties are not heard on the application. The attached information or tangibles are not disclosed to the attaching party until the court has given a separate decision on disclosure in the main action. Permission to attach is not granted where the protection of confidential information or tangibles is not assured. There is no higher remedy against permission given.

Article 8.5 Witnesses

- 8.5.1. Witnesses may be heard at any hearing or at a hearing scheduled for that purpose. Witnesses are heard where witness testimony is permitted by law and a party has offered evidence of disputed facts that may lead to the decision of the case. The court may also order a witness hearing at its own initiative. Where the court directs a hearing of witnesses, it states, in as far as possible, which party is being ordered to furnish evidence and in respect of which facts. Testimony by witnesses for purposes of rebuttal evidence is permitted as a matter of law.

- 8.5.2 After conferring with the parties, the court may direct that a party calling a witness submit a written statement by this witness no later than 14 days before the witness examination, or within a different time limit as appropriate for sound case management.
- 8.5.3. Anyone duly summoned in accordance with the law is obligated to give testimony in court, except where a witness has a right to be excused based on a duty of confidentiality or family life. Before giving testimony, the witness must swear an oath, make a solemn affirmation or make a solemn declaration to tell the truth as follows: "So help me God", "I so promise" or "I so declare". If testimony is given in Dutch, the witness must give this confirmation by stating the equivalent in Dutch.
- 8.5.4. The court will examine each witness, but the witness's testimony must not be taken in the presence of other witnesses who have not yet given testimony, except where such other witnesses are a party. The parties and their lawyers may examine the witnesses, but the court may direct that a question not be answered. At a party's request or of its own initiative, the court may confront a witness with other witnesses or with one or more parties. The court may direct that the parties respond to questions relating to testimony. The parties may also ask each other questions, directly or through their lawyers, but the court may direct that a question need not be answered. The court will generally allow specific modes of witness examination where the parties have so agreed, provided the agreement satisfies the provisions under Article 8.3 and there is no adverse impact on due process or sound case management.
- The court may draw any adverse inference it considers appropriate from a party's statement with regard to testimony, or a party's failure to appear at the evidentiary hearing, or a party's failure to answer a question or sign the record.
- 8.5.5. Testimony by a witness may only be used as evidence where the witness has personal knowledge of the facts that are the subject of the testimony. The parties may give testimony. Where a party who is obligated to testify does not appear in court, or fails to answer a question, or refuses to sign the record of the testimony, the court may draw any adverse inference it considers appropriate.
- 8.5.6. The court will prepare a record of testimony given by the witnesses. Each witness's testimony will be read aloud to this witness, and each witness may make amendments or additions in the record. Each witness must sign the record of the witness's own testimony. Where a witness refuses to sign, or makes a declaration of incapacity to sign, the refusal or declaration will be noted in the record along with the cause of the incapacity. Articles 7.7.2 and 7.7.3 apply mutatis mutandis.

Article 8.6 Experts

- 8.6.1. At a party's request or of its own initiative, the court may direct that one or more experts be appointed to carry out an investigation, or that an expert give testimony. The court's directions will include the topics for the investigation and the time limit within which the investigation or the report needs to be made. The court will appoint one or more experts, having heard the parties' views, and will instruct the expert to submit a written report to the court or to attend a hearing to present an oral report. The appointment is not subject to any remedy.
- 8.6.2. The court will fix an amount that must be deposited in advance to cover the expert's fee and expenses and the court will order one or more parties to pay the deposit. If a party fails to pay the advance within the time limit set, the court may draw any adverse inferences it considers appropriate.
- 8.6.3. If an expert does not accept the appointment or is unable to properly fulfil the expert's duties or refuses to do so, the court may, on its own initiative or at the request of either party, after consulting with the parties, appoint another expert as a replacement. The expert must allow the parties to submit comments and requests as part of the investigation. The report must reflect the expert's compliance with this rule. The report must note the content of the comments and requests. If a party transmits comments or requests to the experts in writing, it must immediately transmit a copy to the counterparty.
- The parties must cooperate with the investigation. If a party fails to comply, the court may draw such adverse inferences as it considers appropriate.
- 8.6.4. At a party's request or of its own initiative, the court may order the experts to provide a further written explanation or an additional report, or to attend a hearing to that end. Only after the experts have been given the opportunity to do so may the court, after consulting with the parties, appoint one or more other experts, except where the court does not consider further clarification or addition useful.
- 8.6.5. At a party's request, the court may allow experts to be heard who were not appointed by the court. The provisions regarding the witness hearing apply mutatis mutandis to the examination of these experts.
- 8.6.6. If an examination of experts has taken place, the court will prepare a record of the conclusion of the oral report given by an expert. Articles 7.7.2 and 7.7.3 apply.

Article 8.7 Judicial on-site inspection

At a party's request or of its own initiative, the court may inspect a site or view an object on location if its presentation at an evidentiary hearing is impossible or would impose an undue burden. The court will allow the parties to submit comments or requests. The court may hear witnesses on site. The court will prepare a record. Articles 7.7.2 and 7.7.3 apply wherever practicable.

Article 8.8 Preparatory evidence events

8.8.1. Before a case becomes pending, or, if it is pending, before it is entered on the court calendar, the court may, at the request of an interested party, order one or more preparatory evidence events, such as a preparatory witness hearing, the inspection or provision of copies of information, a preparatory expert investigation or a preparatory on-site inspection. In such case, the counterparty and other interested parties have the opportunity to also request one or more preparatory evidence events, after which the court may deal with them jointly.

The application may be submitted to the NCC where the conditions of Article 1.3.1 (a), (b) and (d) are satisfied and:

- there are reasonable grounds to expect that the Amsterdam District Court will have jurisdiction to hear the main action, if proceedings are initiated, or
- the case is subject to the jurisdiction of the NCC and the persons from whom information is sought, or the greatest number of them, are domiciled within the jurisdiction of the Amsterdam District Court, or, where they have no known domicile in the Netherlands, actually reside there.

In urgent cases, the application for the inspection or a copy or extract of specific information may also be made to the CSP. Where proceedings are pending, such a claim may be brought by motion for an interim measure under Article 6.3 or by motion for an order under Article 8.4.1.

8.8.2. The court grants the application, except where it decides that:

- (a) the information sought is not sufficiently specific;
- (b) there is insufficient interest in respect of the preparatory evidence events;
- (c) the application for preparatory evidence events is contrary to due process;
- (d) there is an abuse of right; or
- (e) there are other compelling reasons to deny the preparatory evidence event.

- 8.8.3. If the application concerns a preparatory witness hearing and a witness shows it is likely that the applicant wishes to obtain information from the witness in the preparatory witness hearing in order to bring a claim against the witness, the examination is done in accordance with the provisions on examining a witness who is a party.
- 8.8.4. The decision on the preparatory request to inspect, or for a copy or extract of, specific information may be appealed within four weeks from the date of the judgment. A decision on the application for one or more preparatory evidence events is not subject to any higher remedy, except where the court decides otherwise. In such event, the time limit for initiating the higher remedy is four weeks.

Article 8.9 Assessment of evidence

Except where the law provides otherwise, the assessment of evidence is within the court's discretion.

SECTION 9 JUDGMENT

Article 9.1 Date of judgment

Except where the court gives judgment from the bench, The court will set the date for giving judgment and notify the parties that have entered an appearance. In actions by application and in proceedings before the CSP, the court will generally give its judgment within two weeks after the hearing. Decisions on motions will generally be given within a period of four weeks. The time for giving judgment in the main action will be determined by the court based on the scope and complexity of the case.

As a rule, decisions in cases before the NCC Court of Appeal will be issued within a period of 10 weeks after the day on which the date for giving judgment has been set. Motions and appeals against CSP judgments will generally be decided upon within six weeks.

The court will postpone giving judgment if the parties who have entered an appearance unanimously so request.

Article 9.2 Substance of the judgment

The court's judgment includes a decision on every part of the claim or application. The court examines and decides the case only on the grounds brought forward by the parties in support of their claim or application or defence, except where the law provides otherwise. Where a party has not had an adequate opportunity to express its view on certain documents or data, the court may not use those documents or data as the basis for a decision adverse to that party. The court supplies alternative legal bases of its own initiative. The court may not refuse to issue a decision.

Article 9.3 Reasoning in the judgment

The judgment must state the decision and the facts and reasons it is based on, except where the law provides otherwise. Where the court relies on confidential documents as referred to in Article 8.4.2, the court will, as appropriate, take the confidential nature of the documents into account.

Article 9.4 Judgment in public

The judgment is given in public.

Article 9.5 Form of judgment and issuing copies

The judgment states the name of the judge or judges who gave the judgment.

The judgment is signed by the judge, or by the president of a three-judge chamber, and by the clerk. Alternatively, the judgment may be signed by the judge who issues the judgment.

The court will issue a copy of the judgment to the parties that entered an appearance. The copy will be issued by uploading the judgment to eNCC. A hard copy will be issued in the form required for enforcement. The court may direct that the judgment be published on the website of the Dutch Courts (www.rechtspraak.nl).

In highly urgent cases, the court may issue an abbreviated judgment, which if necessary is prepared in the form required for enforcement. The court provides the full written text of this judgment as soon as possible, but in any case within 2 weeks. The full written text states the date of the judgment and the date on which the full written text of that judgment was approved in final form.

Article 9.6 Judgment from the bench

The court may pronounce the judgment from the bench at the hearing if all of the parties are present. Judgment may also be pronounced from the bench where not all the parties appeared at the hearing, but where for reasons of urgency the delay to draft a written judgment is not appropriate. The judgment from the bench states the decision and the (main) reasons for the decision. The court will prepare a record of a judgment pronounced from the bench, except in cases of urgency. The court will send a copy to the parties as soon as possible, but in any case within two weeks. Any party who may enforce the judgment will be issued a copy in the form required for that purpose.

Article 9.7 Enforceability

At a party's request, except where the law provides otherwise or where inappropriate given the nature of the case, the court may direct that the judgment will be enforceable notwithstanding appeal. The court may impose the condition that security must be provided for an amount fixed by the court.

Conventions to which the Netherlands is a party, European Regulations and the general private international law in the jurisdiction where enforcement is sought govern the enforcement of the judgment in foreign jurisdictions.

Article 9.8 Correction and additional judgment

At a party's request or of its own initiative, at any stage, the court will correct any manifest calculation error, typographical error or other manifest error in a judgment, if the error is easy to rectify. At a party's request, where the judgment does not include a decision on a part of the claim or application, the court will give an additional judgment at any stage. Before making a correction or giving an additional judgment, the court will allow the parties to express their views.

SECTION 10 COSTS

Article 10.1 Court fee

Every party is charged a court fee. Where a defendant/interested party intends to rely on a defence as referred to in Article 6.2, he must give notice of this defence in eNCC as soon as practicable and a court fee at the standard rate will be charged. This court fee will be increased to the NCC rate if the defence is rejected. Where the case is referred to the NCC, the court fee will also be increased to the NCC rate.

Any court fee previously charged or paid in the Dutch court system in the case which the matter pertains to will be deducted from the court fee.

The court fee must be paid within four weeks in accordance with the statutory time limit. Where a party fails to comply, the court will, having heard the respective party's view, impose a sanction, such as dismissal where the claimant has failed to pay the court fee on time, except where the court determines that a sanction would cause manifest injustice, taking into account the parties' interest in access to the court.

Article 10.2 Agreement on costs

The parties may make agreements they consider appropriate in respect of the costs of the proceedings, including the court fee and costs for lawyers, service or delivery, translation or interpreting, and court reporters, and witnesses' expenses or experts' fees and expenses. These agreements should wherever possible be made in advance of the proceedings, but no later than the day the court determines when it will give judgment in the main action. The claimant must notify the court of the substance of these agreements as soon as practicable and send a copy of the notification to the defendant. Where no agreement is made or notified to the court on time, the court will apply Dutch law in respect of costs of proceedings in civil and commercial matters (Article 10.3). As a rule, the court will apply the rates to assess lawyers' fees as stated in Annex III.

Article 10.3 Allocation of costs absent agreement

The unsuccessful party will bear the costs of the proceedings. However, no costs incurred by the successful party may be apportioned to the unsuccessful party other than the lawyer's fees and expenses that fall within the scope of Articles 237 et seq. of the CCP.

The court may order that each party must bear its own costs or that certain costs incurred by a party without sufficient cause must be borne by that party.

SECTION 11 DISCONTINUANCE, WITHDRAWAL AND RESUMPTION

Article 11.1 Discontinuance

- 11.1.1. Any actions initiated by claim will be discontinued where the parties unanimously so request or where the parties have been allowed to express their views on the next steps in the case and the parties have not notified the court that they wish to move forward. The clerk will record the discontinuance.
- 11.1.2. Where an action has been discontinued, a party may submit a written request, referencing the case number, to resume the proceedings. The court will give directions as to whether the proceedings will be resumed and if so, how, and what documents must be submitted.
- 11.1.3. This Article does not apply to summary proceedings governed by Article 6.3.2.

Article 11.2 Withdrawal

- 11.2.1. In actions initiated by application, the applicant may withdraw the application except where a decision has been given in the first instance or an interested party has submitted a counter-application or counterclaim.
- The court will rule on costs if an award of costs was requested in the response and the respondent has not waived that request in writing.
- 11.2.2. In summary proceedings governed by Article 6.3.2, the claimant may withdraw the claim at any time before the hearing starts. Where a claim is withdrawn, the defendant may request that the court schedule a hearing to discuss the defendant's claim as to costs. The court will decide whether a hearing is to be held or whether the claim may be dealt with in writing. In the first case the defendant must promptly notify the claimant of this date set by the court for the hearing. In the second case parties will be given the opportunity to present their views in writing.
- 11.2.3. Proceedings may not be resumed following a withdrawal.

SECTION 12 FINAL PROVISIONS

Article 12.1 Adoption and effective date

These Rules were adopted by the judicial conferences of the Amsterdam District Court and of the Amsterdam Court of Appeal on 19 December 2024.

These Rules take effect on 1 January 2025.

These Rules may be amended. An updated version will be published in the Staatscourant and on the NCC website.
